

Stanford Fertility and Reproductive Medicine Center

leaders in personalized, fertility medicine

Options for Creating Families

September 9th from 6:30 - 8:30 pm

Stanford Fertility and Reproductive Medicine Center
Suite 200 (Conference Room)

Cost: $25/couple or $15/person

This special event will focus on the different options for family building including:

- IVF
- Ovum Donation
- Sperm Donation
- Adoption – domestic and international
- Gestational Carrier

You will be able to meet woman and couples that have chosen these paths and listen to their journeys.

Presentation will be made by:

Penny Donnelly, MFT, RN, director of support programs at Stanford Fertility and Reproductive Medicine Center, has developed and led a number of counseling and health education programs for patients seeking fertility treatment. She offers private counseling to clinic patients and facilitates support groups for primary infertility, patients that have experienced pregnancy loss, and those that are considering third party reproduction (donor egg, donor sperm, embryo donation, or gestational carrier). In addition, Penny leads and facilitates an innovative mind/body medicine program that has been nationally recognized.

Questions: Call Penny Donnelly RN MFT or email pdonnelly@stanfordmed.org

To register: Please call 650-498-7911 option 1.